Meditation

"The Samaritan had fulfilled the command, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself,' thus showing that he was more righteous than those by whom he was denounced. Risking his own life, he had treated the wounded man as his brother. This Samaritan represents Christ. Our Saviour manifested for us a love that the love of man can never equal. When we were bruised and dying, He had pity upon us. He did not pass us by on the other side, and leave us, helpless and hopeless, to perish. He did not remain in His holy, happy home, where He was beloved by all the heavenly host... He says to His followers, "These things I command you, that ye love one another"; "as I have loved you, that ye also love one another."
